Commander Parks ascertained that the Government inspector at the works of this latter concern inspected all the tubes after they came from Greenville, where it was alleged several bad ones were passed, and threw out a large number which, he thought, did not come up to the requirements. These were returned by the Sterling Company to the Greenville concern at the expense of the latter company. The tubes accepted were then put in the boilers and thoroughly tested in accordance with the requirements of the Navy Department. Every tube met this stringent test and, although the boilers have now been used for about two years, not one defective tube has developed. After reviewing the growth of these organizations in the United States, Mr.

"Fraternal societies must be put on permanent bases. They must collect rates commensurate with the risk imposed, which is only another way of saying that they must collect rates that will enable them to pay their certificates as they mature. The drain by lapses must be stopped.

"Unless the existing conditions are improved, and that speedly, the most dire results will follow.

"The fraternal beneficiary societies of America have paid, since their organization, $869,022,632 in benefits. The good that has been accomplished by them cannot be overestimated. But their future must be made secure."

At the conclusion of the session now sitting, the convention will close.

gation in the States of the Great Plains and the Rocky mountains, providing for a Pacific cable, and so forth. Yet in addition to these tasks, some of which are of stupendous importance, Congress has taken giant strides along the path of Government regulation and control of corporations; the interstate commerce law has been made effective in radical and far-reaching fashion, rebates have been stopped, a pure food law has been passed, proper supervision of the meat packing business provided, and the Bureau of Corporations established—a bureau which has already done great good, and which can and should be given a constantly increasing functional power. The work of legislation has been no more important than the work done by the Department of Justice in executing the laws, not only against corporations and individuals who have broken the anti-trust or interstate commerce law, but against those who have been engaged in land frauds. Scores of suits, civil and criminal, have been successfully undertaken against offenders of all kinds—many of them against the most formidable and wealthy combinations in the land; in some the combinations have been imposed, in several cases the chief offenders have been imprisoned.

It behooves us Americans to look ahead and plan out the right kind of a civilization, as that which we intend to develop from these wonderful new conditions of vast industrial growth. It must not be, it shall not be, the civilization, nor yetcan there be submission to class hatred, to rancer, brutality, and mob violence, for that would mean the end of all civilization. Increased powers are susceptible of abuse as well as use; never before have the opportunities for selfishness been so great, nor the results of selfishness so appalling; for in communities where everything is organized on a merely selfish commercial basis, such selfishness, if unchecked, may transform the great forces of the new epoch into powers of destruction hitherto unequaled.

We need to check the forces of gread, to insure just treatment de can be done by wise legislation and by resolute enforcement of the law. But still more must be done by steady training of the individual citizen, in consider that this is my personal affair, in which the public cannot rightfully have any interest."

One of the developments in the case was the reinstatement of W. E. Busby in his postition in the office of the Interborough Realty Company, from which he had been discharged when the Platt domestic war was made public. No particulars as to his return to the company were given out.

Much can be done by wise legislation and by resolute enforcement of the law. But still more must be done by steady training of the individual citizen, in conscience and character, until he grows to abhor corruption and greed and tyranny and brutality and to prize justice and fair dealing.

The men who are to do the work of the new epoch must be trained so as to have a sturdy self-respect, a power of sturdy insistence on their own rights, and with it a proud and generous recognition of their duties, a sense of honorable obligation to their fellows, which will bind them, as by bands of steel, to any man which cannot be blazened.

President's Trip to Pennsylvania Artistic Teeth

President Roosevelt left Washington at 7:50 o'clock this morning and arrived at Harrisburg, Pa., at 11 o'clock to attend the dedication of the new State capitol. His private car Mayflower was attached to the regular Northern Central morning express.

The President was accompanied by Senators Knox and Penrose, of Pennylvania, and Assistant Secretaries Latta and McGrew. The President arrived at the station about ten minutes before leaving time. Owing to the early hour of his departure and the drizzling rain there was only a small crowd at the station to see him off.

The usual corps of detectives from the central office, and a number of policemen from the Sixth precinct were on hand. The President's carriage drove up to the lower Sixth street entrance, where his private car was already attached to the train.

the lower Sixth street entrance, where his private car was already attached to the train.

On the return trip from Harrisburg this afternoon the President will stop over an hour at York, in Representative Lafearr's district, where he will make a speech at the county fair grounds. He will return to Washington at 1.30 this evening.

Got Barber's Itch From Shaving -Worse Under Doctors' Care-Tried Everything and Was Discouraged - Railroad Official Cannot Praise Cuticura Too Much

CURED BY ONE SET OF CUTICURA-COST $1

"I want to send you a word of thanks for what the wonderful Cuticura Remedies have done for me. I got shaved and got barber's itch, and doctored with my own doctor; but it got worse all the time. I spent in all about fifty dollars with doctors, but still it got worse. A friend of mine wanted me to try the Cuticura Remedies. As I had tried everything, I was discouraged. I bought one set of the Cuticura Remedies (Soap, Cintment, and Pills, cost $1.00) and they cured me entirely, so I cannot praise them too much. I would be willing to do most anything for the promotion of a cause like the Cuticura Remedies. They are wonderful, and I have recommended them to every one where occasion demanded it.
